Dan Daulby, [b. 1954 - Winnipeg, Canada]

residence - Richmond, BC, Canada

For over twenty-five years my Celtic and Native American ancestry has had a profound influence in my work. It has sent me on a journey to discover my voice as an artist.

My work is a spiritual quest to define myself and to reflect the world around me. My images have little in common with traditional Native American or Celtic religious practices, myths, or rituals. They are quite simply my personal interpretations.
